Unlocking RD&I Potential Our Flywheel

ReaDI Watch

We are building a digital and data-driven suite of solutions that embody a paradigm shift in how people and teams foster innovation. The suite of solutions that we build will culminate in a world-first digital expert system (or digital twin) for RD&I.

Initiated by our team's expertise, and designed with an in-built self-improvement cycle using AI, the digital expert system (twin) we are building will advance beyond existing known models and frameworks that exist for; ideation; research; development; innovation; organisational performance; capability; organisational structures; competitive positioning; technological change; and more.
