Why are ReaDI-Watch excited about this?

We launched ReaDI-Watch in 2021 because we felt there was a need to help companies get "ReaDI" for R&D and Innovation Excellence.

The business process / framework around R&D and Innovation are not yet as structured, standardized nor professionalized as much as other processes (Sales, HR, Finance, Project Management, Operations, Quality).

We have been closely involved with the rise of new international innovation management standards such as the new ISO 5600 series through policy groups and technical committees.

Now, we're looking forward to working with the global best players (Amplify Innovation) to take our skillset to the next level.

We see a world where Innovation and R&D should be certifiable, professional skills in any company. We will help industry get there with ReaDI-Watch.
